Railroads are all the talk now. Let 'em come.

It pays to be good, no matter how mean a person is at heart.

The war in the far east, so far, has been one of the fiercest in history.

And still people are being killed with guns "that were not loaded."

PATRICK KERWIN of Seward, Pa., is supposed to be the oldest voter in the United States. He is 107 years of age and has voted for 24 presidents.

No wonder the church is losing its influence now-a-days. As long as a man pays a good round sum to its support he can do as he pleases, and there is no question asked.

Chicago department store managers are trying to persuade their saleswomen to dress in plain black, with white collars. It will be noticed, however, that no attempt has been made to call down the pompadour.

The compensation of railway employees in the United States increased from $465,601,581 during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, to $830,000,000 during the last fiscal year, and the number of employees from 823,476 to 1,320,000.

According to the statement of a traveling man, the people of Scott county will believe the old 3-C's railroad will be built when the track is laid and not before. We must admit they have been fooled several times.

There are 1,000 American teachers in the Philippines centered in 338 larger towns out of 934 towns in the entire archipelago. Two thousand primary schools are in operation, and they employ the services of 3,000 native teachers.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt and party visited the World's Fair at St. Louis last week. In order to insure the safety of the president, a pilot engine went the entire distance from Washington to St. Louis twenty miles ahead of the presidential train, and the entire route was guarded by policemen, one being placed at every mile of the entire distance.

It has been asserted that a square foot of uncovered pipe, filled with steam at 100 pounds pressure, will radiate and dissipate in a year the heat put into 3,716 pounds of steam by the economic combustion of 398 pounds of coal. Thus, ten square feet of bare pipe corresponds approximately to the waste of two tons of coal per annum.—Scientific American.

Locomotives exported from the United States to Japan in the nine months ending with September, 1904, were 58 in number, against 18 in the corresponding period in 1903 and 12 in the corresponding period of 1902. The value of these exports for the nine months of 1904 was $442,100, as compared with $178,213 in the corresponding months of 1903 and $111,152 in 1902.

HEREAFTER there are to be no more issues of "crisp bank notes." The government bureau of engraving and printing have obtained a patent by which they will treat bank notes with a chemical preparation which makes the paper soft and velvety, almost like a tissue of silk. The chemical preparation acts as an antiseptic and preservative. When applied to old documents it seems to knit the fibre together and prevent further decay.

An exchange tells us that a farmer in Deerfield, Pa., has raised 37,500 bushels of white potatoes on a farm of 150 acres. Value $20,000. He used 100 tons of fertilizers and half a ton of Paris green to kill potato beetles. The total cost of the crop was $7,000 and the profit was $13,000. That is better than being a Supreme Court Judge or a Cabinet Minister, so far as salary goes.

With all her vast territories and 130,000,000 population, Russia raises less than half the wheat produced in the United States. If that country would dismiss half its soldiery and set them to farming, dismount her warships and use the funds in manufacturing, cease spending billions in war and use the funds to establish schools for the people; in other words, if she should abandon the ways of barbarism and adopt those of civilization, she would not continue to be the object of contempt and dread which make her a terror to the nations. As a blunt old farmer once said to the southern people, they should raise more corn and less hell, work more with their hands and less with their mouths.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 26.—In turning off business and "doing things" the President is certainly a hothead. During the last week in giving evidence of strenuousness he has accepted with thanks the bronze statue of Frederick the Great from Germany and three carloads of wild animals from Abyssinia, made three carefully prepared and effective speeches, collected and coordinated much information from his Cabinet, and mumbled the last half of his message into shape and read the proof of the whole of it, received half a dozen foreign ministers and pardoned seven convicts, ridden ten miles and walked fourteen, effecting the exercise by eating a heavy Thanksgiving dinner, with a 24-pound turkey in the middle of it, said another fervent good-bye to Larson Wagner, shaken hands with a thousand strangers, appointed several hundred to office, and dismissed half a dozen, and yesterday morning before daylight he jumped on a fast flyer for St. Louis where he will inspect the Fair for two days, make several speeches and schedules to be back here Tuesday! WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself. Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer. Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.

Be sure that this picture is the form of a fish in the Emulsion you buy.

bered that besides attending to these trifles he transacted the usual routine business and swept the desks of the White House of all accumulated correspondence, the American people will see that their not very obsequious servant in the White House is a person of industrious habits.

He will indeed have to hurry back, for Congressmen who had not heard of his flight are at the White House this morning, very earnestly demanding to see him on imperative business. For two weeks statesmen have been arriving from different parts of the country, and in two or three days a majority of the members will be on hand with Uncle Joseph in the vanguard. Though the last session of the 58th Congress will not open till a week from Monday noon, there is unusual activity on the part of Senators and Representatives already on the ground and there are so many matters of consequence to dispose of before March 4 that there is less inclination than usual to jump the Christmas cycle and assemble only after the midwinter holidays. If the mania for work manifested by those already on the ground is shared by those yet to come, it is possible that not only the incident will be entirely withheld and that Cannon will keep the old gavel flying without interruption in the determination to "do things." If the two weeks of Christmas-holidays should be wasted as usual, there will be only seventy working days left between December 8 and noon of March 4. Appropriation bills must be passed, whatever the economical frenzy may be, aggregating nearly or quite $700,000,000. They will probably be enacted with considerable promptness on the ground that the American people have affirmed that they like large expenditures, and the feeble minority will have little heart for filibustering and dilatory tactics. With a majority of 116 in the House, the Republican party can do as it pleases, especially as it will have a much larger majority in the next House, where there will be only 134 Democrats, 108 of whom will come from the old "Solid South."

Congressmen exhibit abnormal excitement about the shape which the "pork" bills will take—the bills for rivers and harbors and public buildings—these measures being notoriously not in the public interest, but in the interest of the constituents of individual members. Chairman Hearnshaw has called a meeting of the appropriations Committee for next Tuesday, at which the pensions bill will probably be finished ready to report to the House.

The committee on the Swayne case, the Smoot case, the Panama canal strip and other interests, will take their time. The first named is now in session here and is rather disinclined to impeach Judge Swayne for his conceded irregularities. Smoot will probably not be molested. Senators and members are hotly discussing the expediency of an extra session to revise the tariff. Both parties concede that something should be done, but the problem has not yet arrived at an equation, and its elements are in such a chaotic state that it seems likely at the present moment that the serious consideration of it will be postponed another year. Members of Congress are always warmly averse to remaining here during the hot summer, and that fact may be more influential than the interests of the country. In the 59th Congress of 386 members the Republicans will have 252 votes, considerably more than twice as many as the entire Democratic membership. And they will have the support of the Senate even if they should pass a big ship subsidy bill.

The President's message will not recommend an extra session of Congress or discuss in any detail what ever the merits of the tariff question. It will contain a pretty stiff statement concerning the trusts and what supervision and regulation of them is practicable. It will reiterate the President's opinion that a very strong navy is necessary for us if we are going to keep the peace and the Philippine Islands, it being understood that he warmly endorses the pet project of Secretary Morton to appropriate $500,000,000 for new ships, though he will probably not state the definite figures.

MAY BACK PLAN.

Wabash System Interested in Coal Field.

The report that the Wabash railroad is back of the plans of the recently organized Virginia & South-eastern, a kindred corporation to the Virginia & Southwestern, has been a source of much speculation, some of which is undoubtedly well-founded. As a basis for connecting the Wabash with the scheme it is stated that Mr. H. K. McHarg and Mr. O. H. Payne, both directors in the Wabash, are also directors in the Wabash, and that the Rockefeller interests which are considered as back of the Wabash are also believed to be back of the Virginia & South-eastern. Other reasons for the belief are also given. If the supposed fact really is one, then the chances for another big system through Bristol, one that will be as large as any now in the South, are extremely bright. This statement is based on the expectation that the Missouri Pacific would enter into close combination. Mr. O. H. Payne and Mr. H. K. McHarg, mentioned as Wabash directors, passed through this city and examined the Virginia & South-eastern territory while traveling in a Missouri Pacific car.

The Wabash railroad owns, operates or controls a mileage of 25,176 miles; the Missouri Pacific has mileage of 6,108 under its control and ownership. The Wabash enters such cities as St. Louis, Kansas City, Chicago, Toledo, Columbus, Cleveland and Pittsburg. The eastern terminus is at Pittsburg for the south, and at Buffalo for the north. No entrance into the Virginia or West Virginia coal fields is made, and it is on these fields that the management of all eastern and middle-west roads have their eyes.

The Missouri Pacific connects with the Wabash at several points and covers practically the entire country west of the Mississippi and east of the Rocky Mountains, including several gulf ports, with lines owned or controlled by its own directorate. St. Louis is the eastern terminus at present. Geo. J. Gould is president and Frank Jay Gould is vice president. A. C. Bird is vice-president in charge of the hotel which operates the Wabash, and A. C. Bird is vice president. These lines are therefore clearly allied. Neither has an Atlantic coast outlet, and when the Panama canal is built such an outlet will be an absolute necessity. A line into the coveted Virginia coal fields and to the South Atlantic coast would naturally be via the V. & S. W. and Bristol. There is apparently little room for doubt that the Virginia & South-eastern means business as to part of the announced plans, but whether a connection with the Tidewater will be built as stated remains to be seen. The principal support of such a belief is that the Goulds are reported as backing that road also.

Necessarily nearly all that has been said or done so far is little more than surmise, but from examination it is evident that they are well-founded surmises.

A BAPTIST FISH.

During the recent Baptist convention held in Charleston, Rev. Dr. Green, of Washington, straddled down to the Battery one morning to look across the harbor at Fort Sumpter. An old negro was sitting on the sea wall fishing. Dr. Green watched the lone fisherman, and finally saw him pull up an odd-looking fish—a cross between a toad and a catfish.

"What kind of a fish is that, old man?" inquired Dr. Green.

"Dey calls it de Baptist fish," replied the fisherman as he tossed it away, in deep disgust.

"Why do they call it the Baptist fish?" asked the minister.

"Because dey spile 'em soon after dey comes outen de water," answered the fisherman.—Exchange.

Six hundred tons of paper made into 2,000,000 ballots were necessary to enable the voters of New York City to vote in recent election. One hundred men and girls working night and day for twelve days toiled with unusual speed to get them ready. Six presses and cutters and folders innumerable were used. Three hundred drivers and 300 trucks and six hundred horses, were busy for five days distributing them. Four thousand policemen carried them from the various precincts to the polling places.

Withville, Va., November 18.—Judge Henson today overruled the motion made by the defendant's counsel to set aside the verdict rendered at the last term of court in the case of Tomlinson's administrator vs. the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company, mentioned in this correspondence yesterday. The opinion of Judge Henson, though oral, covered every phase of the case and was quite lengthy. Counsel are now preparing bills of exceptions and an application will be made to the Supreme Court of Appeals for a writ of error.

PULASKI IRON REVIVAL.

Big Sale of Pig Iron To Single Manufacturing Company.

Pulaski, Va., Nov. 21.—The Singer Sewing Machine Company has purchased from the Dora furnace, and is now shipping to its factory at Elizabethport, N. J., 5,000 tons of pig iron to be used in the manufacture of sewing machines. This represents a transaction of some $70,000, which is thus expended by the sewing machine company in our community. The Singer people have also, during the past year, brought large quantities of charcoal iron from the Dora furnace in this county their purchases from the various operation of the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company amounting to something like a half million dollars in the course of the year.

These are our mines and furnaces being large sums of money into our community from abroad; and while considerable quantities of money are extended on sewing machines, still greater sums are brought into the county by its superior grade of iron and other ores.

The plant for the reduction of the metallic ore which is being erected east of the Pulaski iron furnace is progressing rapidly. This plant, when finally completed, will give employment to some 600 hands and will add about 3,000 people to the population of our town.

They expect eventually to erect 100 Herschhoff furnaces. They have acquired thirty acres of land for their site and the supply of ore is practically unlimited. They treat the ore in such fashion as to eliminate the arsenic and the sulphur can then be used in making sulphuric acid, and the ore, after treatment, yields about 50 per cent of iron.

With all furnaces in full blast and a large new plant soon to be in operation, Pulaski, is on the eve of a great industrial revival.

WORTH READING.

SONG.

Whenever he may sail;
 The moon is constant to her time,
 The sun will never fail,
 But follow, follow, round the world,
 The green earth and the sea;
 So love is with lover's heart,
 Wherever he may be.
 Wherever he may be, the stars
 Must daily tell their light,
 The moon will tell her in the shade,
 The sun will set at night.
 The sun may set, but constant love
 Will shine when he's away,
 So that dull night is never long,
 And day is brighter day.

—Thomas Hood.

REST.

Lay me down to sleep,
 With little care
 Whether my walking fund
 Me here or there.

A bowing, hardened head
 That will not take to rest,
 Unquestionably upon
 A loving breast.

My good right hand forgets
 Its evening now,
 To march the weary march
 I know not how,
 I am not eager, bold,
 Nor strong; all that is past,
 I am ready not to do,
 At least—at last.

My half-day's work is done,
 And this is all my part—
 I give a patient God
 My day's work.

My half-day's banner still,
 Though all the blue be dim,
 These stripes as well as stars
 Lead after Him.

—Mary Woolsey Howland.

GOOD ATTENDANCE.

Statistics furnished by the United States Commissioner of Education show that for the year ending June 30, 1904, more than 16,000,000 pupils were enrolled in the public school of the entire population, the total school enrollment, including the enrollment in colleges, universities, and other educational institutions, being 18,387,915. The commissioner's report also shows a noteworthy increase of women as teachers as compared with the number of male teachers. In 1870 the male teachers formed 29 per cent. of the whole number and in 1890 nearly 42 per cent, but in 1890 the proportion of male teachers dropped to 34 per cent, and in 1903 to 26 per cent.

A LEADING QUESTION.

A certain judge, living in the upper part of New York, while trying a case listened with pain and displeasure to the testimony of a colored woman who was describing how she had been whipped by an offspring. She enlarged on the harrowing details until the judge stopped her.

"Do you mean to tell me that you were cruel enough to punish your son like that?" he demanded.

"Oh co'se I did, yoh honob," she replied.

"How dare you be so brutal?"

The colored woman looked at him in slow contempt for a moment, then asked slow ly:

"Look a-beeh, judge, was yoh eber de father o' a wuthless mullater boy?"

The judge almost fell from the bench.

"El'rob sin," continued the negroess, "then yoh don't know nuffin' about de case!"—Harper's Weekly.

If the army of birds were destroyed, it has been estimated that in the course of nine years the world could not be inhabited by man in spite of all the sprays and poisons that could be manufactured for the destruction of insects. All crops, all fruits, everything which supports human life, would in a comparatively short time be destroyed by single and insects.

An English speaking nation has grown up on the west side of the Atlantic which has done, and is doing more than the parent country to give the tongue a world vogue. Two-thirds of the people who speak English live in the United States. The industrial and commercial conquests which this country is gaining tell in favor of its people's tongue. A century ago French, Spanish and German were far ahead in the number of persons who used them as a vehicle of speech. But in the space of time English has passed all of them and is spoken by more people today than any other civilized tongue.

New York experts, after testing the so-called mines, whiskeys and brandies sold in that city, declare that seventy-five per cent of them are fraudulent adulterations. The alleged wines have never touched a grape and the whiskeys know nothing of the corn or rye from which they are supposed to be produced. The ingredients in these vile concoctions are mostly harmful and many of them absolutely poisonous. Green patent liquor is bad enough, and will continue to be if used to excess, but when all the new horrors added by adulteration are considered, it is wonderful that tapers survive as long as they do.
